Review: This short textbook on industrial production planning was written by members of the Planning Section of the Ministry of Heavy Industry.
It is based on the reports of Soviet specialists and the 1950 experiences of the Ministry of Heavy Industry. Book is divided into five sections dealing with the following subjects: scope of industrial production planning, basis of drawing up plans (production targets and quotas), industrial production plans as they relate to output, labor, supply of raw materials, cost, financing, operations and inspection of production, and basic construction plans for industrial enterprises. Arranged to show industrial requirements of China and intended for use by superintendents and managers of mining plants.
